Optimistic, Involved: Captain Wilson

Set Apart From The Rest Of The Crowd

The Class of 1984 dedicates this edition of the MUSTER to Catain Al Wilson. From Company Officer to Head Football Coach to Career Placement Director, Captain Wilson has clearly been involved with student life at MMA.

Starting in 1972 as Company Officer, he worked hand in hand with the Cadet Regiment, teaching leadership and responsiblities. As Chief Mate of the Training Ship, he worked more exclusively with Deck Cadets, preparing them to be Mates. Moving up from Assistant Commandant to Assistant to the President, rank did not pull him away from Cadets, but tied him closer to us, striving to help us reach our goals.

Now, as Placement Director, he is working for our futures, the most important part of our life here at MMA. We came to MMA alone- just old enough to have a past, yet still scrambling for identity and acceptance. We came with tentative plans for a permanent future, Unmolded. We came with a dream, with your help our dreams our in reach.

Thank You,
Class of '84

TO THE CLASS OF 1984

Four sometimes hectic and difficult years have now passed and the graduates of the Class of 1984 stand at the threshold of life. That life, that career, that future will most certainly be enhanced by way of the personal qualities that each and every one of you have acquired by way of hard work and perseverance.

You and I are particularly cognizant of the sweat equity - the toil and the tears associated with the years past. In spite of their difficulty, those years and the lessons learned will serve you well!

There really isn't a task that any one of you will now hesitate taking on. The challenges of life will be eagerly accepted and the usual pride associated with your Buccaneer background will enable you to rise steadily to the top, whatever your station in life.

The good memories of MMA will be lasting and your classmates will be friends forever, a literal professional and social resource in time of need. The close unit you represented collectively as a class will never really disintegrate, but moreover will be strengthened and revisited in the years ahead.

Life is always, of course, what you make of it. As a graduate of the Academy you now possess many tools to make your life a resounding success. You enjoy the resiliency to adjust, the gritty perseverance to stick it out, and the intellectual capacity to sort it out! "Getting along with others" is an early Academy lesson well learned, and I am sure you will a-ply this advantage to its fullest extent as you sail the world's oceans and ply your way down life's varied path.

As you embark on the career you have chosen and scatter to the four corners of the world, you will carry with you valuable Massachusetts Maritime Academy credentials. Your Alma Mater will be anxiously and proudly watching you climb the ladder of success. In doing so, you will negotiate all of the rungs based on your courage, determination, and ability. I urge you to be observant, learn from others along the way, and retain pride in all of your undertakings. The doing of one's duty, even though it sometimes may seem commonplace, embodies the highest ideals of life and good character. Remember as well that additional knowledge will always be advantageious to you throughout your life - subscribe to acquiring all that you possibly can!

The Faculty and the Academy family join with me in wishing you all success and happiness. Your home, your community, your state and nation expect great things of you.

Good sailing and fair winds,

Massachusetts Maritime Academy

P.O. BOX D BUZZARDS BAY MASSACHUSETTS 02532 1803 - Board of Regents of Higher Education

TO THE CLASS OF 1984

- - IN APPRECIATION - -

On the twenty-second of April, 1983 the Class of 1984 assumed command of the Regiment of Cadets here at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. The three years leading up to this momentous occasion had often been difficult, frustrating, and filled with changes. There were cruise delays, three different Commandants, and three different ship Captains. You sailed on two different borrowed ships and witnessed the tragic fire on the Training Ship BAY STATE. You had every reason to be unmotivated and discouraged.

Instead, through the excellent leadership of Jim O'Neil and Karl Bernard, you became the driving force behind a tremendous positive shift in the morale and performance of the Regiment. Through hard work, an upbeat attitude, and personal example, you demonstrated that this Academy was the best institution of its kind in the country. Because of the professionalism of John Fallon, Dan Gnignon, Brian Lombard, Mike Donovan, Greg Green, Bob Nault, Dan Sheehan, Phil White, Kerry McDonough, Tim Kannally, and Jamie Mahoney the companies in the Regiment became cohesive, conscientious units which worked toward the common goal of turning out outstanding deckies and engineers who understood the concepts of duty and responsibility.

Everyone in the class pulled together with a true "cooperate to graduate" spirit, and you overcame every hurdle in your path. The leadership reins were shared by many in the class - Jim Stranberg as the President of the Class, Jim Watts as the Cruise Commander, Mark Tracy as the Cadet First Assistant, Shawn Tucy as the Cadet Chief Mate, Ken Grant and Bob Perry as Battalion Commanders, Lew Franklin as the Regimental Adjutant and many others too numerous to mention here. The 1984 list of accomplishments include a revitalized Student Government Association by Mike Lopey, the Fantail Club by Joe Sauger, the first Honor Company by Jamie Mahoney and the ECAC Football Championship - won by a squad of seniors that had been carrying the load since their freshman year when, because of a delayed cruise, they played half of MMA's football schedule without any upperclass cadets to help.

I wish to extend my appreciation to all of those listed above and to the many Cadet Officers, ship rates and members of the Class who put in the extra effort to do the job to the best of their ability. It has been my privilege and pleasure to have worked with all of you. Congratulations on your past accomplishments and the best of luck in all of your future endeavors.

9 May 1984

From: President, Massachusetts Maritime Academy

To: Cadet 1/C James E. O'NEILL, Jr.

Cadet 1/C Karl H. BERNARD

Subj: Letter of Commendation

1. On the twenty-second of April, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, you assumed command of the Regiment of Cadets of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. During your year of leadership, the Academy has experienced vast improvement in terms of active cadet involvement, a lower incidence of disciplinary problems, fewer damages to Academy property and higher standards of personal and dormitory appearance. Under your supervision the Fourth Class Orientation Program was expertly run and ranks as one of the best in recent history. As a result, the Class of 1987 is well on its way to carrying on your high standards and ideals.

2. The overwhelming success of the Regiment under your leadership is directly attributable to your hard work and devotion to duty. Your diligence and enthusiasm in all areas of Cadet life are particularly noteworthy.

3. On behalf of the entire Massachusetts Maritime Academy family, I wish to extend a sincere appreciation for a job well done.

. . . A Chance To Travel

The Commercial Shipping Program, organized by Captain Wilson, has enlarged this year to encompass 50% of the Class of 84.

Partaking in both a Summer and Winter shipping list, cadets have sailed on both U.S. and Foreign Flag Ships. Cadets sailing with the program have acquired skills, experience and practical knowledge of shipboard life and on the job training in todays Merchant Marine.

To most men, experience is like the stern lights of a ship which illumine only the track it has passed.

THE RING DANCE TRADITION

Next to graduation itself, the ring dance is the highlight of the year for the Senior Class at Massachusetts Maritime Academy. Tradition dictates that each cadet's class ring be worn about the neck of his or her escort on a length of ribbon until the ceremony of the ring. During this ceremony, the ring is dipped by the couple in a binnacle filled with water representing the waters of the seven seas. By doing this, the cadet "marries the sea" symbolizing his or her commitment to the maritime profession. The ring is then placed on the cadet's finger and the couple kisses. The entire ceremony takes place in a large replica of a class ring.

When the time comes and God calls each of us to heaven it is a sure bet that we will find Neil in a front row seat with his feet up waiting to greet us and it will be a pleasure to see his smiling face again. His untimely death came as a great shock to all who knew and loved him.

In life Neil was a young man who had sincere concern for the well being of those around him. Respected by both his instructors and his peers, he could always be counted on to handle himself in a professional manner and to complete any task assigned to him.

A true friend, a credit to his family, school, and country, we render a final salute to Neil T. Begley, II, knowing we will never forget him. May God protect Neil on the seas of heaven.
